

Business English

Intermediate C (B1)

Course Information

Our approach

This course integrates speaking, writing, listening and reading skills using a 'communicative approach', as well as grammar analysis and practice. The focus of the course is for you to communicate successfully with others in a business context; this means that error correction takes place at certain points in the lesson, not necessarily every time a mistake is made.

Materials

The student's book used for this course is Market Leader Intermediate (3rd Edition) and the topics you will cover are:

- Unit 9: International markets
- Unit 10: Ethics
- Unit 11: Leadership
- Unit 12: Competition

What will you be able to by the end of the course?

This course aims to help you to be able to do the following things more confidently and using appropriate language. Your teacher will encourage you to self-assess your ability throughout the course.

I can discuss the impact of business agreements using a range of vocabulary and conditional structures
I can use appropriate language and strategies to participate in a negotiation
I can narrate past events and use vocabulary to describe ethical business practices
I can use a range of language to consider options in response to ethical dilemmas in a business context
I can describe and analyse the personal qualities of leaders using relative clauses
I can make an effective presentation outlining company strategy
I can employ a variety of vocabulary and passive structures to describe market conditions
I can use diplomatic language to discuss the terms of contracts

Assessment and Self-Study

Your teacher will give you 1 assessed speaking task and 1 writing task over the course and will give you written feedback on your performance.

Additionally, you will use the practice file for work in class and at home. The book is only one part of your course – you will also use activities, multi-media resources and other materials which will help you learn.

What is a B1 user of English?

According to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR), a B1 user can:

- understand the main points of clear standard speech on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school and leisure, and the main point of radio or TV programmes on current affairs or topics of personal or professional interest when the delivery is relatively slow and clear.
- understand written texts that consist mainly of high frequency every day or job-related language and write simple connected text on familiar topics.
- deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken and enter unprepared into conversation on familiar topics.
